Tokyo Plants Burn for Hours after Bombing Attack

Great Damage Caused by Raid Of Superforts

Two Yank Planes Reported Missing

By VERN HAUGHLAND
TWENTY-FIRST UNITED STATES BOMBER COMMAND, SAIPAN, Nov. 24 (AP)—American Superfortresses skimming more than 400 miles an hour high over Tokyo today (Japan time) smashed the huge Musashina aircraft factory and left columns of smoke and fire over other industrial targets.

First reconnaissance photos taken hours after the raid showed "fires still burning in Central Tokyo after the attack," said a communique issued at headquarters of the army air forces, Pacific ocean areas.

Opposition Is Slight
The scores of Superforts in their surprise daylight visit deliberately worked over the vital Japanese production targets with apparently slight fighter opposition and meager and inaccurate anti-aircraft fire.

"All but two of the participating aircraft have now returned," the communique said. It did not say whether the planes were lost to lack of operational difficulties.

The B29s, their exact number undisclosed by American sources (Japanese imperial headquarters said there were about seventy, struck from Saipan, one of the Marianas islands which United States forces took from Japan only five months ago).

This first raid on Tokyo since Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle (then lieutenant colonel) took his Liberators over the city April 18, 1942, was staged by a "large new task force designated as the Twenty-first Bomber Command," the communique said.

Take Japs by Surprise
"We took them by surprise again," said Brig. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, commander of the flight, when he returned from the 3,000-mile round trip.

O'Donnell said the flight battled a stiff westerly wind, and spotted the famous Japanese shrine, Mt. Fuji, while still 100 miles from their goal.

The atmosphere was very hazy over the Japanese mainland, O'Donnell said, but there was a clear spot over Tokyo and the raiders topped the city at more than 400 miles an hour.

Although previously reconnaissance flights had spotted a ring of fighter-plane fields around Tokyo, and enemy radio broadcasts had boasted their air defenses were "air tight," O'Donnell said opposition was almost nil.

Jap Industries Bombed
"Tokyo's war industries have been badly hurt by a blow made possible by the Americans who fought and died for the Marianas," said Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the army's Twentieth air force, in Washington.

The enemy communique said the planes struck at 12:20 p. m. Tokyo time—11:20 p. m. Thursday, United States eastern war time—and the raid continued for about two hours.

In contrast with recently-revealed army figures which placed a Superfortress bomb load at ten tons or more, the Japanese communique said "our damage has been light."

Million in Violins
Placed on Display
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24 (AP)—One million dollars worth of Stradivarius violins—twenty-one of them—are on display at the Art Alliance here.

William H. Moening, Jr., violin maker who assembled the exhibit for a Stradivarius tercentenary celebration, says there haven't been so many in one place since forty-one were gathered at Cremona, Italy, for a Stradivarius observance in 1937.

"They aren't easy to borrow," he explains.

Japan under Bombsights:

Entire Nation Facing Destructive Power of Superforts, Harmon Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24—Lt. Gen. Millard S. Harmon, interviewed at Saipan by Bud Foster of NBC, said today "we have the whole of Japan, under our bombsights now."

Commenting on the destructive B29 raid on Tokyo, Harmon was quoted as saying:

"We want to emphasize that we are not bombing people. We are bombing the Japanese war machine."

"When we have seriously crippled the war industries, all the toughness in the world won't save the Japanese."

"It is our plan to pound away from the air with power which will increase in proportion to our added need. We intend by the addition of this special air power to give the Jap a little more than he can take."

Harmon said the "phenomenal" toughness of the Japanese civilians may make it possible for them to hold out under the kind of bombing Germany has been taking, but "even if the people of Japan can hold out, their war industries cannot."

Exiled Polish
Premier Resigns
By RICHARD KASISCHKE

LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Stanislaw Mikolajczyk resigned today as premier of the Polish government-in-exile after failing to win the support of his cabinet for his proposals covering the terms by which Russia and the Polish government in London could solve their long standing dispute.

Mikolajczyk's resignation was announced tonight in an official communique which said Jan Kwapiński, Socialist who had held the rank of deputy premier, had been charged with the formation of a new government.

Resignation Accepted
The communique said President Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz had accepted Mikolajczyk's resignation, but had asked him and the members of his cabinet to remain at their posts until the appointment of a new cabinet.

Mikolajczyk made two trips to Moscow in an effort to heal the breach between the Polish government and Russia and to reach an agreement with the Polish government and Russia and to reach an agreement with the Polish National Committee of Liberation which has set up a government in Lublin under Soviet sponsorship.

Pressure on Cabinet
The premier was understood to have pressed the exiled cabinet to accede to the Russian demands that the eastern boundary of Poland roughly follow the Curzon line. This frontier, proposed by an Allied delegation after the First World War, but not accepted by Poland, would give to the Soviet union a considerable strip of former Polish territory whose population is largely White Russian and Ukrainian.

The cabinet was said to have refused, resulting in Mikolajczyk's resignation.

"Nubbins" Hoffman
Shows Improvement
DENVER, Nov. 24 (AP)—It's tough, slow going for little Forest "Nubbins" Hoffman but the progress is in the right direction, his physician said today.

The three-year-old boy is much improved and is looking a little better than when he arrived at the hospital, said a Denver urologist now in charge of the case.

Nubbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hoffman of Cheyenne, Wyo., is in a serious condition caused by a bladder obstruction which has destroyed one kidney and badly damaged the other.

Sparrows Point
Walkout Ended
BALTIMORE, Nov. 24 (AP)—The return to work today of 110 of a total of 143 machine shop employees at the Bethlehem Steel Company's Sparrows Point plant was described as a "normal" complement by company officials and as ending a walkout which began November 16.

But for Taylor he reserved his bitterest attack, accusing him of "machinations."

"Mr. Taylor," said Murray, "we think you're biased. You're unfair. Your reasoning of cases presented you by labor organizations within the past twelve months is unsound and we respectfully request that you give more sound, intelligent reasoning to the well-being of the American people than you have given them or, in the interest of those people, you resign your job."

Convention Adjourns
The CIO's week-long convention was concluded tonight after adoption of resolutions demanding relaxation of the wage policy and acceleration of procedure by the War Labor Board, and the reelection of officers.

None was opposed. James B. Carey was elected secretary-treasurer and the nine vice-presidents and forty-nine members of the executive board, representing all CIO international unions, likewise were installed for another year.

Field Marshal Blaskowitz
Removed From Nazi Command in East France

By WILLIAM FRYE
LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Field Marshal Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz was reported today to have been removed from the German command in Eastern France where the lower end of the Nazis' western front is crumbling before the Allied offensive.

The entrance of Allied troops into Strasbourg and the street fighting in that Rhine city were admitted by Berlin radio commentators. But most of them declared that attacks in the Central Vosges were repulsed and that the French First army had been unable to re-open its lines through the German "bolt" positions in the Belfort gap outlet below Mulhouse.

4,000 Nips Die In Attempt To Land on Island

Jap Destroyer Is Sent to Bottom

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES, Saturday, Nov. 25 (AP)—A convoy of four Japanese ships striving to reinforce the enemy garrison on Leyte island has been destroyed by American ships, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today. It was estimated that 4,000 Japanese soldiers were drowned in the American triumph.

In addition, two transports were destroyed, and escort vessel sunk and one transport set afire and beached off Masbate. The action occurred yesterday.

Cross Leyte River
On land, the American Thirty-second division crossed the Leyte river, below Limon, and drove to the southward shore in the face of strong Japanese resistance. The Thirty-second occupied Limon and reached the river Wednesday, smashing stubborn Nipponese last-ditch opposition at the northern end of Ormoc corridor.

The Japanese reinforcements, bound for Leyte, were dropped by Hawahawks and Thunderbolt fighters in low-level bombing and strafing attacks.

The transports destroyed were 11,000 and 2,000 tonners. A destroyer was sunk with all hands aboard. The beached transport was a 6,000-ton vessel. It was left burning fiercely.

Will Speed Up Drive
Soon American ground troops now in training in India and Burma will swing in to help speed up the Japanese retreat. Then, with this assignment finished, the American forces, including the Tenth air force, will have completed the task which has occupied them for nearly three years in India and Burma will be ready for another assignment.

American trained and equipped Chinese forces advancing southward from Myitkyina already have crossed the Irrawaddy river lying between Bhamo on the east and Katha on the west and has pushed thirty or more miles beyond.

The critical elbow of the route for the Burma road runs southeast from Bhamo, then intersects the Old Burma highway running east from Mandalay through Lashio.

Meanwhile, the British thirty-sixth division, which is advancing southward along the Irrawaddy river on the west flank, has encountered stiff resistance.

The British assignment does not end with the Burma road. They have an eye on Mandalay, Rangoon—and ultimately Singapore.

Scattered enemy groups in the American rear in the Pinampogan-Capocan coastal area were being cleared out. For several days these Japanese elements, who had infiltrated the Yank lines, had posed some threat to the American supply road running eastward along the Carigara bay coast from Pinampogan to Carigara.

While the enemy's communication and supply road to Ormoc and his rear areas were hammered by United States heavy guns, Allied warplanes blasted his supply dumps in the Ormoc area. Ormoc, on the western coast of Leyte, has been the Japanese base for supplies and reinforcements.

2,000 Lithuanians
Killed by Germans
MOSCOW, Nov. 24 (AP)—Red fleet, official Russian navy newspaper, reported today that a death camp had been found on the East Prussian border where 2,000 Lithuanian men, women and children were killed and buried in common graves by the Germans before their retreat.

The dispatch said 400 bodies had been found in one grave at the camp, located in Tabin forest.

Blames Public Members
Murray blamed all four public members of the War Labor Board with war mobilization director James F. Byrnes and economic stabilizer Fred M. Vinson, for what he termed "bad administration" of the Little Steel Formula.

But for Taylor he reserved his bitterest attack, accusing him of "machinations."

"Mr. Taylor," said Murray, "we think you're biased. You're unfair. Your reasoning of cases presented you by labor organizations within the past twelve months is unsound and we respectfully request that you give more sound, intelligent reasoning to the well-being of the American people than you have given them or, in the interest of those people, you resign your job."

40,000 Germans Captured in Drive
On Western Front; Thousands Killed

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, Nov. 24 (AP)—More than 40,000 German prisoners have been herded into Allied cages by the six attacking Allied armies since they jumped off in the current winter offensive on the Western front, and many hundreds more remain to be counted.

Although there have been no official estimates of casualties on either side since the all-out drive began, the old army axiom that "you kill as many as you capture and would twice as many as you kill" held true it means the Germans have lost some 160,000 men, or

Boost Arms Production: Output of Small Army Ammunition To Be Doubled To Meet Emergency

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—An urgent appeal from General Eisenhower today brought an order for a 100 per cent increase in small arms ammunition, which was cut back about a year ago.

Eisenhower reported to the War Production Board that his forces are using about four times as many small calibre bullets "as anyone ever imagined they would."

VPB Chairman J. A. Krug, reporting today at a news conference, said that production will be "roughly doubled" at thirteen plants as quickly as possible.

Battle experiences of the last few weeks make the boost necessary, Krug said in adding this type of ammunition to the list of urgently needed items that already includes heavy trucks and tires, heavy artillery and shells, assault ships and radar equipment.

More than 77,000 additional workers will be needed to achieve the new goal. Some of the plants affected are located in acutely tight labor areas, already straining to meet manpower requirements.

The appeal for this tremendous boost in production follows by about a year a cutback of approximately fifty per cent in output of small arms ammunition. At that time military officials decided that an adequate stockpile could be maintained with curtailed production.

Facilities were kept ready, however, to increase output whenever battle needs warranted.

Littell May Refuse
To Resign in Tiff
With Attorney General

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Some members of Congress expressed belief today that assistant Attorney General Norman M. Littell would refuse Attorney General Biddle's request for his resignation.

Biddle was reported to have given incompatibility as his reason for asking the resignation. Neither he nor Littell had any public comment.

But the Justice department in a statement to Senator Mead (D-NY) chairman of the Senate War Investigating committee, said the differences were not the result of testimony Littell had given the committee.

While this was taking place, the conference went ahead in closed session, determined to clear as quickly as possible those points on which the "big three" countries had agreed. The blanks were passed over and attention centered on getting a tentative general agreement.

The conference atmosphere changed to one of rising optimism, although leaders still were cautious of predicting complete success.

The unsolved problem—it is freely admitted agreement on principle had been reached last week—concerns the right to pick up and discharge traffic in countries other than the home and terminus countries of the airline (the so-called "fifth freedom") and its application to the adjustment of traffic (carrying capacity) (escalator clause).

Share-the-Match Clubs Predicted

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—Even if cigars should become more plentiful, which he doubts, there won't be any matches to light them, Herman A. Oriel, managing director of the Whole Tobacco Distributors of New York, said today.

"We may have torch concessions on every corner," Oriel told reporters. "Any book and safety matches now going out are wholesalers' and manufacturers' stocks. When these are exhausted, which will be any time now, we will see share-the-match clubs."

Complete Plan For Air Travel Now Available

By JAMES J. STREIBIG
CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP)—A complete plan for regulated world air competition which could be made effective immediately through executive action was available today to delegates of the International Civil Aviation Conference for the first time in their twenty-four-day meeting.

The blanks in a proposed overall air transport plan submitted jointly by the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom Monday were filled in today by separate documents from the American and British leaders, with the lines so close together that only one important point of controversy appeared to remain.

While this was taking place, the conference went ahead in closed session, determined to clear as quickly as possible those points on which the "big three" countries had agreed. The blanks were passed over and attention centered on getting a tentative general agreement.

The conference atmosphere changed to one of rising optimism, although leaders still were cautious of predicting complete success.

MacKenzie King Stakes His Future
In Fight for Canadian Draft Act

OTTAWA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister King announced he would open a debate in Parliament Monday on a vote of confidence motion, and he appeared to have won control of the cabinet end of the crisis at least for the week end.

After reports had circulated that half of the sixty-odd Quebec members would end their support of the government and after it had appeared other cabinet ministers might join Air Minister C. G. Power in resigning in protest against the conscription policy, a long caucus of Liberal party members was held today at which most of the Quebec members indicated they would wait and see what King has to say Monday.

With the money that the treasurer has and the other ready to be turned in, the total is $5,935.27. Last year, with a quota of $5,000, there was over $6,300 contributed.

No Tax Relief For Four Years, Experts Assert

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 24—(AP)—Two Washington forecasters, looking into the future for mining technicians, declared today that American business—and particularly the coal industry—can look for little tax relief during the next four years under the Democratic administration.

President Edward R. Burke of the Southern Coal Producers Association told the West Virginia Coal Mining Institute that "it is time for business and industry to prepare for what may well be a life and death struggle."

Few Changes Expected
Ralph C. Mulligan of the National Coal Association previously had said that President Roosevelt's hold on Congress had been strengthened by the recent election and there would be "few new faces" in the administration.

Burke declared the uncertainties of taxation and labor relations was retarding the flow of capital into private investments, and said "it is clear that high taxes will be with us for a long time to come."

"The demands upon the federal government at the best will continue to be so great," he continued, "and the carrying charge of accumulated deficits so high, that a substantial portion of every dollar of wealth that is created must be turned over to the federal government to pay the bills."

Tax Program Needed
"Greater benefits will come to more people if we have a tax program that encourages, rather than stifles, the full investment of private capital in productive enterprise."

"Labor legislation and administration has been too largely predicated upon the theory that employees and employers are natural enemies and that what is good for the one must of necessity be bad for the other."

"At home and abroad there has become evident a growing loss of faith in what we call the free enterprise system. Greater and even greater reliance is being placed on the ability of government to do a more satisfactory job. The issue will be determined in the postwar period."

Ex-Champs Lead In Portland Open

By RUSS NEWLAND
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 24 (AP)—Two former national champions, Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., and Jimmie Hoge, Akron, O., and slim Jack Gage, of Santa Barbara, shared a three-way temporary tie today when nearly half the field had checked in with second round scores of the seventy-two-hole Portland open golf tournament. The trio posted thirty-six-hole totals of 147.

Gage, former California state amateur title holder recently turned professional, banded a pair of 36s to equal par for the Portland club course. It gave him part of the lead with two veteran notables of the links—Shute, former British open and National P. G. A. title winner, and Nelson, an ex-United States open and P.G.A. top man. Nelson, high money winner of the year, toured the course in 35-39 for a 74, a score equalled by Shute with a 36-38.

It appeared unlikely, however, the 147 score would stand as low. Sam Snead, Hot Spring, Va., star and first day leader with a two under par 70, was holding his own. He tacked up a 36 on the outgoing par 35 nine today.

Harold McSpaden, Philadelphia, one of the big tournament favorites, virtually knocked himself out of a chance to pick up an important pay off in the $15,500 war bonds tournament. He needed 39-37—76 to get around today, having putting miscues on many greens, and posted a 36-hole total of 151.

OPA Receives Complaints That Coal Dealers Are Overcharging

Acting on complaints that some coal dealers have been overcharging for loads delivered in Cumberland from Georges Creek and other nearby coal regions, price panel clerks of the local War Price and Rationing Board said yesterday that the complaints are being investigated.

According to the OPA, truckers buy their coal at the mines, which charge a definite ceiling price depending on the type of coal and the price set for the various mines. The truckers are allowed to add the gross dollar price in effect in December, 1941, but no more, it was stated.

In one case, the OPA stated, a coal trucker allegedly charged $2 for hauling the coal, over and above the ceiling price he paid for it at the mine. The same trucker charged $1.25 for the same hauling in August, 1943, it was reported.

Good War News From All Fronts Thrills Public

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

There was a post-Thanksgiving thrill in the war news from Europe and Asia alike.

Superbombers based on captured Western Pacific islands blazed a new trail to Tokyo. The air siege of Japan aimed at her widespread war industries had begun.

France Being Cleared

In Europe, French-American breakthroughs were being swiftly exploited to sweep Alsace, and all France, free of Germans. Scouting elements even were reported beyond the Rhine in the region of recaptured Strasbourg. French Rhine bank metropolis, which had been the last French city of consequence in German hands.

Of prime importance to Allied planners of the swelling western winter attack is the indication that the German command in the west now has been forced to commit its guarded and scanty reserves to battle on the Roer. Front line advances told of multi-division counter attacks thrown against British and American armies pounding through the Aachen breach in the Siegfried line.

Results Not Clear

The results of those desperate German efforts to ward off a critical Anglo-American breakthrough were not fully available as this was written. First reports indicated, however, that the enemy had been halted with relatively unimportant gains in the British or American attack front. The Allied approach to the Roer most guarding the way to Cologne and the west Rhine plain has been slowed but not stopped.

Good War News From All Fronts Thrills Public

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt put the Allied world on notice today that lend-lease ends with victory.

At the same time he sought to make clear that in the final settlement with Allies there will be no effort to match dollar for dollar.

"Neither the monetary totals of the lend-lease aid we supply, nor the totals of the reverse lend-lease aid we receive are measures of aid we have given or received in this war," the president declared in a letter to Congress. "x x x There are no statistical or monetary measurements for the value of courage, skill and sacrifice in the face of death and destruction wrought by our enemies."

Throughout his letter the president hammered the point, recently in some controversy, that lend-lease is a wartime arrangement only. There have been rumors that the United States might seek to strengthen Britain's postwar economy with a kind of lend-lease.

"Lend-lease and reverse lend-lease are a system of combined war supply," Mr. Roosevelt asserted. "They should end with the war. But the United Nations partnership must go on and must grow stronger."

Meanwhile, it was learned, British and American lend-lease experts in lengthy secret sessions here have virtually completed a $5,500,000,000 program of lend-lease to Britain for 1945.

This program is built on the assumption that the war in Europe will end at least during the early months of 1945 and thereafter lend-lease to Britain will be justifiable to the extent that it helps the British fight the Japanese.

Child Is Injured

Edgar Lee Parsons, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parsons, 414 Arch street, was treated in Memorial hospital last evening at 10:15 o'clock for a laceration of the left leg. Attacks were told the child fell through a "stovepipe that came up through the floor of the home."

The program included a reading "The Faithful Few" by Sandra Godwin, and a vocal duet "I Would Be True" by Barbara McDowell and Dorothea Holcombe. The speaker was Jason Wolford, principal of Parsons high school. The Sunday school presented Mr. Mott with a gift. Mrs. George C. Stratton made the presentation.

A letter from Donald Flannagan, now stationed in the South Pacific war zone, was read in which he praised and thanked Mr. Mott for his work and his example to the youths of that town.

Coming to Davis from Mineral county in 1902 at the age of twenty, he was soon identified with its church and its political business and civic life.

Coalition Party Idea Is Popular With British as Peacetime Plan

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion
PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 24—British are well-enough satisfied with their coalition government—a product or the stress and strain of wartime—to want to see the idea of an all-party government continued in peacetime.

And as the head of that type of government after the war, they would prefer Winston Churchill to any other man.

The Churchill coalition government went through some of the darkest and most disheartening days in the history of modern England. Though British voters are not all agreed that the coalition idea is desirable, more of them would like to see an all-party government after the war than any other single type. Next most popular would be a labor government.

These facts are shown in a survey by the British Institute of Public Opinion, affiliate of the American Institute.

A cross-section of the British populace was asked:

What form of government would you like to see lead Britain in the period following the war.

The choices follow:

All-Party Government ... 35%
Labor ... 26%
Conservative ... 12%
Liberal-Labor ... 6%
Liberal ... 4%
Conservative-Labor ... 3%
Uncertain ... 14%

The popularity of the coalition form may be due in part to the great popularity of Mr. Churchill as Prime Minister.

When British voters were asked what man they would like to see lead the government after the war, the choices were as follows:

Churchill ... 24%
Eden ... 21%
Attlee ... 7%
Cripps ... 6%
Morrison ... 3%
Bevin ... 2%
Others ... 9%
Uncertain ... 28%

In conjunction with this survey, the British Institute also reports that eighty-six per cent are satisfied, in general, with the present government's conduct of the war, and that nine out of every ten approve Winston Churchill as Prime Minister at present.

"Bubbles" Whiteman Shatters City Scoring Record by Eleven Points

Sentinel Halfback Tops List with 125 Tallies; Johnny Cox, Allegany, Is Second with 64

Don "Bubbles" Whiteman, Fort Hill's stocky halfback, shattered the city scholastic football scoring record by eleven points the past season when he marked up eighteen touchdowns and made seventeen points-after-touchdown for a total of 125 tallies.

Appearing in every one of the Sentinels' nine games, he averaged fourteen markers a contest. Against the Romney (W.Va.) High Pioneers, he made five touchdowns and four extra points for a total of thirty-four points.

Whiteman scored at least one point in every game, making four touchdowns against Keyser, one extra point in the first Allegany clash, three touchdowns and five points in the first LaSalle tussle, the Sentinels' only touchdown against Martinsburg, a touchdown and point in the second LaSalle battle, a touchdown and three points against Ridgeley, two touchdowns and three points against Hagerstown and Fort Hill's only six-point game in the Thanksgiving day clash with Allegany.

Cox Second with 64 Points
The old record for one season was the 114 points scored by Derl Keller, of Penn Avenue, in 1935. Several years ago, Allegany's Don Snyder came within one point of tying Keller's mark.

Johnny Cox, Allegany quarter-back, was second in the 1944 race with sixty-four points while two other Alleganyans—Bruce Anderson and Ronald Durst tied for third

Yale Is Favored To Down Virginia

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 24 (AP)—Spurred by the return to action of ace performers, Yale and Virginia eagerly awaited their intersectional football fracas here tomorrow with the Elis, anxious to end their first perfect campaign since 1923 with a win, slight favorites.

Nominated for starting posts were Yale's Mac Whiting, captain and ace guard, and Bull Montano, scrappy center, and Virginia's Hank Walker, brilliant end. News of Whiting's availability particularly was encouraging to the Blue, which, although unbeaten and untied in seven tilts, has missed his inspiring leadership and savvy since Oct. 14 when he suffered a broken leg.

Both clubs are strong defensively and have depended mainly on ground attacks, punctuated occasionally with aerials. Coach Frank Murray, of the Cavaliers, a native-born New Englander, believes that his current outfit is the fastest and the best team he has turned out in Charlottesville and that includes his 1941 squad which dropped its only contest to the Bulldogs.

One of the brightest spots on Virginia's good record of five victories, one defeat and a tie, is the deadlock with North Carolina pre-flight, conqueror of Navy and Duke.

Georgia Defeats Clemson Eleven

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 24 (AP)—Georgia Bulldogs, striving to improve their standing in the bowl picture, found stubborn opposition in a Clemson eleven here today but punched out a 21-7 win.

Al Perl, speedy Bulldog halfback, broke around right end on the first play of the game to race seventy-six yards for a touchdown. Billy Bryan's placement made it 7-0 at the quarter.

In the second period Georgia came back with a payoff pass from George Skipworth to Don Edwards, good for seventy-one yards. Again Bryan converted.

Georgia moved to midfield in the third and Tinsley kicked to the Georgia fifteen where the Bulldogs started an eighty-five-yard drive with Billy Rutland scoring from thirty yards. Bryan's placement made it 21-0.

Clemson scored on an odd play later in the quarter. Tinsley passed to George Graham at the Bulldog ten. Graham attempted a lateral to Billy Poe who was unable to get control of the ball and fell on it when it bounced across the goal.

Wendall Ard came in to kick the point.

Navy Gridders Meet "B" Squad in Workout

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 24 (AP)—Navy's regular Saturday football game will be an intra-mural affair tomorrow, with the "B" squad making like the Army team and the varsity staging a dress rehearsal for the big clash next Saturday.

Head Coach Comdr. Oscar E. Hagberg said big Bob Jenkins and Charlie Guy were not in top-notch condition yet, but were shaping up and probably would be ready with the other Tars to take on Army in Baltimore Dec. 2.

Coach Walter "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers, who edged out the Fort Hill High Sentinels 7-6 in their annual Thanksgiving day football battle Thursday, wrecked Sentinel hopes for a perfect grid season the past two years.

The setup going into the 1943 and 1944 Turkey day battles was the same both seasons with Fort Hill slightly favored on the strength of undefeated and untied records. However, the Campers upset the dope book times to gain a share of the city scholastic championship. Last fall, Fort Hill's loss to Allegany on Thanksgiving gave Hagerstown and the Sentinels an equal share of the Cumberland Valley Athletic League title but the Hill-toppers' defeat this week threw them completely out of the CVAL picture and gave the crown to Allegany with a record of three victories and no defeats. The previous Fort Hill-Allegany engagement didn't count in the CVAL but did in the city race.

Coach Mel "Newt" Henry's boys outplayed the West Siders with Don "Bubbles" Whiteman, Sentinel half-back who broke the city scoring record this fall, easily the game's top ground-gainer. However, after Fort Hill had marked up a six-point lead in the third quarter, the Alleganyans came back to tie the score in the final period and then won the game on Johnny Cox's successful placement for the extra point.

Fort Hill marched sixty-seven yards for its touchdown and Whitehead going through right tackle for the final six yards. On the try for point, Whiteman's placement was blocked.

Allegany drove seventy-one yards for its six-point, starting the advance late in the third quarter and scoring early in the final session when Bruce Anderson went across from the two. Cox then booted the game-winning point.

The Sentinels drew a number of five-yard penalties early in the contest with one costing them a touchdown. Late in the opening round, "Ace" Jewell tossed a lateral to Whiteman who ran forty-four yards to pay dirt but the Sentinel backfield was ruled in motion and the ball called back.

Late in the game, Fort Hill started a drive and with the ball in Allegany territory, the Sentinels just missed a first down by inches. Allegany had seven first downs to Fort Hill's ten and gained 123 yards to the Sentinels' 154. Neither team completed a pass. Allegany attempting six and Fort Hill four. Each outfit had one forward intercepted.

Bucks, Michigan Clash for Title

By HAROLD HARRISON
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24 (AP)—The football machines of Ohio State and Michigan met here tomorrow for the forty-first time and never before has there been so much at stake.

Although Ohio State and Michigan played their first game in 1897, this will be the first time they've ever had the Big Ten championship strictly between themselves. Ohio State, unbeaten and untied in eight games, can win the title by beating or tying the Wolverines. Michigan, beaten only by Indiana, can win the crown by defeating the all-conquering Bucks.

Ohio State will have its perfect record at stake and then there is that little matter of a date in the Rose bowl on New Year's day. The Rose bowl is interested and Ohio State definitely will accept if it can tomorrow and if the Big Ten will vote Sunday to lift it's ban on post-season games.

There has been no indication as to whether Michigan would accept a bowl bid, if it is offered, but there is reason to believe the Wolverines would be in line for the invitation if they can hand the Bucks a setback.

A capacity crowd of 74,000 was expected to watch the encounter. The last 11,000 tickets—all for general admission seats—went on sale this afternoon and were gobbled up in a hurry. All reserved seats have been sold for more than two weeks.

Both teams were reported at full strength.

Messenger Is Glad Service Game Shifted

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 24 (AP)—Many people were happy that the Army-Navy game had been moved to Baltimore, but one of the most thankful was a man who won't even see the game.

Philip Cowling, special delivery messenger at the naval academy branch of the Annapolis post office said today he earned approximately $250 in the last week delivering hundreds of special delivery letters to the Navy Athletic Association after the announcement of the change.

He lives at St. Margaret's, outside the ten-mile radius around Annapolis, residents of which may obtain tickets under the rules for admissions to the game.

According to the PBC management, the Boys' club will enter the game with a record of eight victories and two defeats—the latter to the North End Tigers and West Side.

Great Navy Line Holds Defensive Edge over Army

Statistics Show Cadet Pass Defense Is Slightly Superior

By JOHN F. CHANDLER
BALTIMORE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Navy's great line, rated by many the best forward wall in collegiate football today, will get its supreme test when Army meets the Middles at Baltimore next week, but right now the Annapolis coaches are concerned mainly with a little item termed the "T"-formation.

Certain that his fine array of backfield talent will be near top form for the forty-fifth annual service classic, Comdr. Oscar E. Hagberg, Navy head coach, has ordered the "T" to be used to boost the "I" works at his regulars because they'll see plenty of its tricky intricacies when Army's Doc Blanchard, Glenn Davis, Dale Hall, and the rest hit town Dec. 2.

Carrington May Start
For that reason Hagberg and his head line coach, Lt. Comdr. E. E. R. Miller, are paying special attention at the moment to defense. Hagberg said today it was possible that Jim Carrington might start at the left, or running guard, spot in place of Jim Turner. Carrington, at 190 pounds, is about fifteen notches heavier than Turner and besides being more experienced, is a better blocker although he has seen plenty of action to date.

In eight games the Navy forwards have held their opponents to a net gain of 301 yards from scrimmage, or an average of approximately thirty-seven and one-half yards per tilt. The Tars pinned negative marks on three opponents, holding Georgia Tech to minus six, Pennsylvania to minus sixteen, and Cornell to a minus twenty yards on the ground.

Army's line has given up 464 yards on the ground, including a minus thirty-eight yards for the Villanova game, for an average of fifty yards per game. Hagberg said today it was possible that Jim Carrington might start at the left, or running guard, spot in place of Jim Turner. Carrington, at 190 pounds, is about fifteen notches heavier than Turner and besides being more experienced, is a better blocker although he has seen plenty of action to date.

But in the air lanes, the West Point defenses were slightly superior—547 yards against the Cadets, compared with 675 against Navy. With 220 yards by air, was the only club to give Lt. Col. Earl (Red) Blake's charges trouble, while Georgia Tech passed for 172 yards, Notre Dame for 164 yards, and North Carolina pre-flight for 134 yards against Navy. Notre Dame's ninety-four yards by air was second best for Army's opponents.

Hagberg reports that Bobby Jenkins, his powerful left halfback who has been sidelined ten days with an injured leg, is expected to resume tomorrow. With Passin' Hal Hamburgers, whose brilliant play helped throttle Purdue last week, back in form after a month's layoff Navy will have primed some big backfield legs of its own.

Bainbridge Faces Real Pigskin Test

BAINBRIDGE, Md., Nov. 24 (AP)—Another service grid classic—the second meeting of the year between never-beaten Bainbridge and the powerful Camp Peary (navy) Pirates—will run off tomorrow at Bainbridge naval training center just one week in advance of the Army-Navy main event in Baltimore.

The host Commodores will lay their fifteen-game winning streak on the line against the Williamsburg, Va., crew, which earlier this season held the Bainbridgers to a 7-0 count and since then have polished off all opposition, including North Carolina pre-flight, 19-7. The Bainbridgers wallowed pre-flight 49 to 20 to land in the nation's top ten teams, where it now ranks fifth.

The first Peary test was Bainbridge's closest squeak in two years of victories, its only touchdown coming on a long fourth quarter gallop by Harry (Hippity) Hopp (Nebraska U.).

The Pirates were the only club able to stop the scoring rampage of Charley Justice, the ex-high school flash from Asheville, N. C., who has recorded thirteen touchdowns and seventy-eight points this year for Coach Joe Maniaci's boys.

The return game has attracted so much attention that nearly 10,000 civilian applications to see the game were turned down. Bainbridge officials said. An additional press box was built to accommodate visiting scribes and seating capacity of Tome field was expanded by 3,000 to approximately 18,000.

Turf Queen Will Receive Welcome To Hialeah Park

Unique Demonstration Arranged for Calumet's Twilight Tear

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Twilight Tear is going to get a royal welcome—brass band and all—when she reaches Hialeah race course tomorrow to begin preparations for a winter campaign which may make racing history.

"Why not?" demanded Everett Clay, Hialeah's publicity director who arranged the demonstration unique for a thoroughbred. "She's the queen of the turf, isn't she?"

The nation's ranking three-year-old, and leading candidate for horse of the year honors, will be gunning this winter for Top Flight's money-winning record of $275,900—the highest ever earned by a filly.

Twilight Tear's sensational 1944 campaign has brought her total winnings to the $268,000 mark, and she is to be entered in stake races this season including the $50,000 Widener handicap—with purses high enough to send her earnings above Top Flight's mark, if she can win them all.

When the Calumet farm's filly is led out of the railroad car in which she is being brought from Baltimore—where she defeated Devil Diver, her principal rival for the horse of 1944 award—she will be greeted by a huge banner with the words: "Welcome, Susie."

"Twilight Tear" is too poetic for the boys around the barns, and they call her "Susie."
Clay has arranged for the band to play "Sweet Sue" and "If You Knew Susie."

But lest the welcome turn Susie's head, Turf Writer Charlie Gregg, of the Miami Herald, suggested that the musical program include the "Vienna Lullaby."

Which ought to remind the Tear of a race at New York last August 8, when she was beaten by an unknown filly named Vienna after winning eleven straight times.

Maryland Wagering Expected To Reach Record $81,000,000

BALTIMORE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Total wagering of approximately $81,000,000 during the 100-day racing year in Maryland, as indicated in the auditor's reports to the state racing commission today, would top the previous high by more than $26,000,000.

Wagering was expected to go well over the $100,000,000 mark at Pimlico tomorrow.
Betting figures were estimated at an aggregate sum of $46,727,777 at Pimlico and $34,855,802 at Laurel. At the Pimlico spring meet, $25,127,777 was wagered.

Betting at Pimlico during the twenty days up to and including yesterday amounted to $19,266,061, with the Thanksgiving figure of $1,676,492, giving a big boost to the total.

The previous record in yearly wagering totals—$54,680,165—was set in 1928.
Maryland's racing was confined to two or the four major tracks due to war conditions.

Health Protection Suggestions Given To Food Handlers

Cleanliness Emphasized as Essential to Prevention of Disease

One hundred and fifty cafeteria workers were told yesterday at the opening session of a two-day food handlers training course being held in city hall auditorium that proper handling of food is essential to protection of the health of those whom they serve.

The course, sponsored by the state and city health departments assisted by the United States Public Health Service, emphasized cleanliness as a great factor in preventing the spread of disease.

Speaking yesterday afternoon on the subject of "Insects and Rodents" as pertaining to good housekeeping, Alonzo Pike, Garrett county sanitarian, declared that the common house fly, as a mechanical carrier of infection is able to convey the germs of about forty diseases. The "tendency of flies to frequent filth, refuse, manure, garbage and decaying matter," he said, "accentuates the danger of their spreading disease, and also makes their presence objectionable for aesthetic reasons."

Remove Breeding Places
To be effective, Pike asserted, measures of controlling the fly must be directed toward the removal of breeding places and, he added, attacks against adult flies are of secondary importance, and are not likely to reduce appreciably the number of flies.

The most effective measure in the control of flies is to prevent breeding, Pike said, pointing out that stable are commonly the most important single source of fly production, followed in importance by open toilets, garbage dumps, uncollected garbage, organic rubbish and restaurant and market wastes and animal carcasses. Garbage collection should be made at least twice a week in summer and more often if possible.

In a discussion of cockroaches, Pike said the German cockroach or "crotch bug" or "water bug" as it is sometimes known, is found more frequently in this section than any of the other four kinds.

Control Infestation Source
Cockroach elimination is not difficult if the sources of infestation can be controlled, Pike stated, and pointed out that no control will keep an establishment free from roaches continuously if sources of reinfestation exist. He said the number of roaches can be reduced greatly by preventing access to food and by scrupulous cleanliness, and emphasized that storage of food in insect-proof containers or in ice boxes is a prerequisite to the control of roaches.

To control roaches, Pike explained, the common roach trap baited with molasses, syrup, or sweetened meal will catch large numbers. To make one of these traps, he suggested using a pan or wide-mouthed glass jar, putting sugar or syrup in the bottom and then rubbing grease on the sides so the roaches cannot get out once they are in. Find where the roaches are entering the building, place the jar near there and the results will be surprising. Then they must be drowned in boiling water.

Rats Vicious Destructive
The greatest problem with regard to rats in Maryland, Pike told the food handlers, is destruction of food and property, contamination of food and the spread of disease. He said the United States Biological Survey estimates there is one rat in existence for every human and added that the same source believes the average rat consumes two dollars worth of food per year and renders unfit for consumption ten times that amount.

Temporary rat control measures, Pike explained, are based on periodic reduction of the rat population through extermination programs accompanied by clean-up campaigns. These must be repeated at least twice a year. On the other hand, permanent rat control measures are aimed at destroying the propagation of rat life by eliminating the rats' food supply and shelter. He proposed elimination of exposed garbage consisting of house and kitchen refuse as well as waste food from business establishments and suggested the use of heavily galvanized metal garbage containers with tight-fitting lids.

Maj. M. M. Miller, of the United States Public Health Service, told the food handlers that an important channel of spreading disease is through eating and drinking utensils contaminated by waiters or waitresses through saliva, cough, or soiled fingers and declared that dishes should be washed to remove and destroy disease germs and to get them clean.

Hot Water Necessary
Steps for hand washing dishes, Maj. Miller outlined as scraping dishes and pre-rinsing, washing until clean in the first section of a three-section sink in water of a temperature ranging from 110 to 120 degrees. The water should be changed frequently and kept hot, and clean dishes should be placed in a basket.

The second step calls for rinsing in the second section of the vat in clean, warm water at a temperature of from 120 to 150 degrees. Dishes can be sterilized by immersing the basket in the third section of the sink in hot water of a 170 degree temperature for two minutes, or by using chlorine. Then the dishes should be drained, dried and stored in a clean, dry place, free from dust.

Sgt. David Wilson Is Declared Dead

Tech. Sgt. David L. Wilson, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Wilson, Bedford road, who has been missing since a combat mission over Europe March 2, has been declared dead by the War Department.

Sgt. Wilson was a gunner and crew chief aboard a Flying Fortress which failed to return after a bombing raid over occupied Europe. His father is employed as a printer by the Times and Allegany Company.

Carl B. Sherred Named Maryland Theater Manager

Will also Manage Embassy; Maryland Wins Bronze Plaque

Carl B. Sherred, former manager of the Strand theater here for more than eight years, will become manager of the Maryland and Embassy theaters tomorrow, Mrs. Grace M. Fisher, operator of the two local movie houses, announced last night.

Sherred will return to Cumberland from Elwood City, Pa., where he has been manager of the Manor theater for the past two years. He managed an Elkins, W. Va., theater for six months after leaving Cumberland and before going to Elwood City.

Mrs. Fisher has been actively managing the Maryland and Embassy theaters since Richard L. Schuette resigned in June to accept a theater managerial position in Omaha, Neb.

"Showman to Fingertips"
Following Schuette's resignation, Walter Gardner, Washington, came here as assistant to Mrs. Fisher and he was succeeded in September by Charles Paris of Front Royal, Va.

When Sherred assumes his new position, Mrs. Fisher said she will relinquish active management and "retire to the sidelines." Sherred, who was very popular in Cumberland while manager of the Strand, was referred to by Mrs. Fisher as a "showman to his fingertips."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sherred and one of their three children are expected to arrive here tomorrow. A son is with the medical corps in England and a daughter is associated with the General Electric Company in Connecticut.

Only Twenty Honored
Mrs. Fisher also announced last night that the Maryland theater won a bronze plaque for its outstanding promotion of "M-G-M Week" a few months ago, and that she was one of but twenty exhibitors in the United States to be so honored.

The Maryland, she said, was the only theater in this state to win the plaque which will be placed in the lobby on its arrival here. Two hundred theaters in America won honorable mention for participation in the celebration of "M-G-M Week."

Speaker at the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday will be the Rev. Herman M. Wilson, Gaithersburg.

Services in observance of the sixtieth anniversary also are scheduled at Grace church at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday when the Rev. Arthur Scrogum, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren, will preach. At 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, the Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed church, will be the speaker, and on Thursday at 6 p. m. a fellowship supper for the entire membership of the church will be held. The Rev. Mr. LeFevre will conduct a service at the table after the supper.

At services Sunday morning, December 3, the Rev. Dr. O. B. Langstaff, superintendent of the Hagerstown district, will preach at 11 a. m. and the anniversary services will be concluded at 7:30 p. m. with the Holy Communion.

Walsh Says Plan To Aid Maryland Veterans Is Being Formulated

Plans are under way to formulate a comprehensive veterans' program for presentation to the next state legislature, according to Attorney General William C. Walsh who returned Thursday from the annual convention of the Association of Attorneys General at Omaha, Neb.

Walsh said the program, worked out by a subcommittee of the Maryland advisory committee for discharged veterans, will provide for the reemployment of veterans and their civil service and pension rights. He added that it will cover the establishment of service centers suggested by Gov. O'Connor, supplementing federal veterans' legislation in general.

Speaking at a meeting during the convention last week, Walsh said that every state should adopt legislation to aid the federal government in assisting returned veterans. The meeting took place prior to a round table discussion of post-war veteran problems at which he presided.

Shortage of Labor Hinders War Work At Kelly Plant

Increased production of shells and heavy duty tires at the Kelly Springfield Tire Company here has failed to meet the demands of the armed forces for more and more war materials, a company official asserted last evening.

Shortage of labor, the company spokesman said, has been the chief bottleneck at the local plant and constant pleas for more workers has only partly met the demand.

At present, at least thirty men are needed on the eight-inch shell lines and the demand for tire workers was given as "as many as we can get."

Absenteeism, the company official said, is "still a problem" and is holding back production of the vitally needed sinews of war.

Woodson Will Speak To Townsend Club

George Woodson, Springfield, Ill., national representative, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of Townsend Club No. 7 tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the TOOF hall, 12 South Mechanic street.

Committees of clubs two and seven will meet to make final arrangements for a supper to be held Nov. 29 in the Community hall, corner of Virginia avenue and Second street.

Three Are Promoted—

Three Cumberland men, all now serving in the navy, have been promoted to lieutenant commanders, as of October 27, according to word received here yesterday from the Navy department in Washington, D. C. They are, William Earle Cobey, (left), William H. Geppert, (right), and Richard Arden Lowndes. (No picture of Lowndes was available). Cobey, a local attorney, was commissioned in the USNR in April 1942 and went to Quonset, R. I., in August 1942. After serving ten months at a naval air station in Panama, he was assigned to duty on a carrier in the South Pacific and reported for duty aboard ship on January 1, 1944. He is the husband of Mrs. Virginia Brewer Cobey, 407 Washington street and son of Mrs. J. C. Cobey, Frostburg. Geppert, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. He was called to active duty in Sept. 1941 and served at several stations in this country before being assigned to sea duty in the Pacific where he has been serving for the last year. Lowndes, vice president and a director of the Second National bank here, when he joined the navy air corps in July 1942, is now stationed somewhere in Africa.

Chronic Disease Hospital To Be Erected in Washington County

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 24 (P)—Governor O'Connor announced today that the state had accepted the Washington county commissioners' offer of the county home for the poor in Hagerstown as the site of a chronic disease hospital to be erected by the state.

At the same time, the governor proposed that a third hospital, for the care of the indigent, be erected by the state near Baltimore. This hospital would take care of cases from Baltimore city and county and Harford, Howard and Anne Arundel counties.

O'Connor said the Board of Public Works decided upon the Hagerstown site after considering offers from both Washington and Frederick counties. The Hagerstown home and grounds include seventy-five acres and the projected hospital to be constructed there would take care of chronic disease patients from the Western Maryland counties.

The current budget calls for the spending of $1,500,000 for the construction of the hospitals in Western Maryland and on the eastern shore.

With the announcement that a third hospital was planned, O'Connor disclosed that the 1945 session of the general assembly would be asked to appropriate funds to cover its cost.

In making the announcements, Governor O'Connor said that "one of the most important aims of my administration has been the elimination of the almshouses in the counties because, in certain instances, they have been adjudged unsatisfactory."

Pfc. James Campbell Is Wounded While Trying To Save a Buddy

Ridgeley Youth Is Patient in Fleet Hospital in South Pacific

Pfc. James R. Campbell, United States Marine Corps, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Campbell, Ridgeley, W. Va., is recuperating in a fleet hospital in the South Pacific, according to word received by his parents, from a Red Cross hospital worker stationed there. He was wounded October 3, three days before Palau was secured.

According to the letter Pfc. Campbell's "wounds were received in the legs from machinegun fire, and he is in a cast" from the hips down. Outside of that, he is fine and in wonderful spirits.

Several days before the notification from the Navy department, November 2, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had a short note from their son, saying it was difficult to write, but he wanted them not to worry, he was receiving the best care and attention and everyone at the hospital. Even the food was just like I used to get back home, and the Red Cross workers, gave me toilet articles and cigarettes, and the medical corps men are a swell bunch of fellows."

Pvt. Campbell said he had been recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross. He was wounded, "while trying to pull one of my buddies out of machinegun fire," he wrote. "I had already saved three." In another letter he wrote, "Tell Phyllis I said to keep on picking those milk-weed pods for life jackets because her brother has to wear one a good bit. Since I have been overseas I have spent sixty-four days at sea and had to wear a life jacket every one of those days I was at sea."

Pvt. Campbell enlisted in the marines November 2, 1943, a month before his eighteenth birthday, while a senior at Ridgeley high school. A member of the school football team he made an eighty-five yard run in a game with LaSalle, which was his last before leaving for service.

He received his basic training at Parris Island, where he was the smallest and youngest member of the platoon. While there he received the Sharpshooters ribbon and Marksmanship medal and after nine weeks training was promoted to private first class. He has also received the Good Conduct ribbon because of his camp training.

After training at LeFlore, N. C., he shipped from San Diego, April, 1944. He has been stationed in New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, and although he has seen action in several places he only was permitted to name Cape Gloucester and the Peleliu group. While on Palau island he wrote he had visited Capt. William McFadden, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McFadden, also of Ridgeley.

John R. Campbell, father of Pfc. Campbell, served with the marines in World War I, having enlisted in 1914, before the United States entered the war and served until the close of the war. He enlisted in Pittsburgh at the same place his son enlisted twenty-nine years later. To add to his father's collection of war souvenirs, Pfc. Campbell has sent home a Japanese marine officer's shoulder patch, which is black with a yellow embroidered bar and anchor, and a five petal metal flower in the center. He has written that he also has some Japanese money and a rifle, but so far has not been able to secure permission to send them home.

8-Year-Old Girl Badly Burned when Clothes Catch Fire
Shelby Jean Rouch, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rouch, 1016 Gay street, was admitted to Memorial hospital yesterday suffering from severe burns of the chest and a slight burn on the left hand.

Attaches, who said her condition was poor, last evening, said the child was roasting bread at her home and was burned when her clothes caught fire.

Mrs. Bessie Rizer, 441 North Centre street, was treated in Memorial hospital yesterday morning at 10:45 o'clock for brush burns on the left side of the face and left arm injuries. Mrs. Rizer told attaches she stepped from a car on the Bedford road and was struck by an oncoming car.

George F. Diggs, 50, 950 Maryland avenue, was treated in Allegany hospital Thanksgiving morning for an injured large toe of the left foot. The B. and O. worker told attaches a brass block dropped upon his foot.

Pfc. James Kyle Is in Hospital

Pfc. James B. Kyle, 37, notified his sister, Mrs. John R. Campbell, Ridgeley, a couple days ago, that he is patient in a hospital in England, after being wounded in the D-day invasion. He wrote of having been in a number of different hospitals but did not mention the extent of his wounds, for which he said he received the Purple Heart on July 12, the date of the birthday of his mother, Mrs. Edna Oates, Baltimore.

Pvt. Kyle entered the service April 1942 and trained at Fort George G. Meade, Camp Bragg, N. C., Camp Blanding, Fla., and Camp Edwards, Mass. He went over to England, October 1942 with Maryland's Twenty-ninth division and was serving with a field artillery.

Allegany Team Honored At "Victory" Dance

Members of the football teams of Allegany and Port Hill high schools attended a "Victory" dance in the Central YMCA gymnasium yesterday evening from 9 to 12 o'clock, at which 550 persons were present. The Red Cross council, headed by James E. Cook, sponsored the dance in honor of Allegany, winner of the Thanksgiving day game between the two schools. The gymnasium was decorated in blue and white, Allegany's colors. Music was provided by Jay Van's orchestra.

Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary, said yesterday that the nominating committee for the city H-Y council will meet at the YMCA at 2 p. m.

Prisoners of War Are Sought Here

City police were asked yesterday to be on the lookout for two Italian prisoners of war who escaped recently from Fort George G. Meade. They are listed as Rudolph Mordech, 26, who is five feet eight inches tall and weighs 145 pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes and is of dark complexion.

The other prisoner is Marinao Placidi, 29, five feet six inches tall and weighing 140 pounds. He is of fair complexion and has brown eyes and dark hair. Both men were wearing winter uniforms of a green hue with an Italian patch on the left shoulder.

First War Fund And Chest Report Is $17,332.70

Leaders Term Giving of Employees in Classified Section Encouraging

Allegany county's National War Fund and Cumberland's Community Chest united campaign workers turned in $17,332.70 at the first report luncheon held yesterday at Central YMCA, campaign leaders announced, adding that the total represents fifteen per cent of the goal of $114,938.

The report showed surprising strength in one respect but displayed certain weaknesses when compared from another viewpoint, campaign leaders said after analyzing the audited figures.

They pointed out that one encouraging feature is that contributors in all sections are giving liberally, much more freely than last year, while on the other hand considerably fewer contributors were submitted than at the first report a year ago.

The report by sections yesterday follows:

Section	Number	Total	Goal
Women's	275	$1,858.00	$3,300.00
Classified	240	1,342.00	15,000.00
Union Industrial	County
County	195	1,368.70	21,000.00
National Pirms	12	1,085.00	4,000.00
Advance Gifts	49	11,742.00	40,000.00
Totals	771	$17,332.70	$98,938.00

Campaign leaders said the most encouraging feature yesterday was in the reports of employee giving in the classified section in which groups are assigned to each office, business, industrial, educational, governmental or other employee group on a basis of the number of employees, the average wage or salary level.

For smaller business concerns the firm contribution is included when the employer is solicited in the advance gifts or national firm committee the goal does not include that subscription. This campaign leaders said, accounts for certain variations in the total received from various employee groups.

Seventy Per Cent Increase
Each employee group that reaches or exceeds its goal is known as a "Victory Award Firm," leader said, and receives a display card showing that the goal has been attained. Thirty-six firms won the award in the report at noon yesterday.

Surprisingly officials said, the employees gave a combined total of $767.50 a year ago and increased to $1,301, a boost of seventy per cent this year. The total goal of these groups was $1,043 which shows their giving to be twenty-four or nine-tenths per cent more than their combined goals.

"Victory Award Firms"
The contribution totals are: Beemer Auto wreckers, $20; James Hatfield, $10; Hawkinson Retread Company, $40; J. A. Rice Auto service, $25; Schade and Twigg, $10; Independent Motor fuel, $50; East Side Cash grocery, $5; Postman market, $17; Klein's Cash grocery, $10; Langer's Cash grocery, $15; George W. Martin, $75; McIntyre grocery, $15; Carl Reith, meats, $5; Shaffer's grocery, $15; Queen C.
